

GALA EVENTS SCHEDULED FOR TOMORROW NIGHT

Lighting Effects To Emphasize Christmas Spirit At Program

To give the Christmas program tomorrow night at 8:30 in the Morley auditorium a more festive atmosphere, special lighting effects will be used during both the musical selections and the one-act play, which will climax the annual celebration.

Lighting effects will be especially employed to bring out the fantastic character of the ragged tramp of the play "Dust of the World." The tramp is supposed to be Judas, the Biblical traitor, who is wandering on earth trying to redeem his soul by helping others. The plot centers around his efforts to convert the mean, ugly soul of a farmer during the Christmas holidays.

Cast for the play includes Jack Ropolo as the tramp, Ed Ropolo as the farmer, Esther Lacitola as the farmer's wife, and Ruth Banks as an old woman.

The first part of the program will be devoted to Yuletide musical numbers. The A Cappella choir, directed by William Erlendson, will offer "Break Forth, O Heavenly Light," "Make We Joyful in This Feast," "Ave Maria," "Alleluia," and "I Hear Along Our Street." Under Maurine Thompson of the Music department, the Madrigal singers will sing "On Christmas Night," "A Christmas Rose," "The Holly and the Ivy."

Helen Rees, soprano, will offer the Christmas Tree; Francis Bert, baritone, will sing a "Carol"; James Wright, tenor, is to sing "Come, Mary, Take Courage." "Christmas Eve" will be sung by Letha Medlin, who will be accompanied by a violin obligato by Helen Rees. Letha will also sing "Cantique de Noel" accompanied by Lydia Boothby, harpist.

A Christmas reading by Alice Bodry is also on the program. Wendell Johnson of the Speech department is directing the play. The entire program will last about an hour and a half and is open to the public, and free of charge.

Men Have Date With La Torre

All men in honor, social fraternities, or other men's organizations have not yet had their yearbook individual pictures taken. A definite date with the La Torre editorial staff at once.

Men's organization members must make individual picture appointments in the Publications office immediately. The annual staff will set its schedule to complete portraits of all men's organization members by Christmas.

These Greek letter organization members must make their appointments by this Friday afternoon, if they have not already done so.

Except in the case of women who are going to do student teaching next quarter and will not be in school, no more women's individual pictures will be taken this quarter.

Large Behrman, associate editor La Torre, emphasizes that students should be sure that their organization is signed up for individual picture space or group picture space before they make appointments for picture sittings at Bushnell's studio.

Daily Toy Drive Gets Under Way

By CLAIRE LAWS

Sponsored by the Spartan Daily staff, the eighth annual toy drive really swings into action with the appearance of a scrumptious Christmas tree with the first toys under its branches in the Publications office.

These first toys have been donated by the Daily staff members in hopes that the rest of the student body, faculty, and organizations will soon join in the festive spirit that is prevailing in the Publications office.

Toys of every kind and description will be welcome under the branches of the Spartan Christmas tree. Suppose that old doll hasn't an arm, or that tinker-toy needs painting? Bring them all into the Publications office anyway because the Salvation Army has willingly consented to repaint and repair all toys so that all under-privileged children will have a chance to have a merry Christmas. If you can't find a toy around the house, buy one, or bring a cash donation into the office. The money donated for this drive is used to buy toys that can be used by children whose illness keeps them in bed and the toys are turned over to the Children's Preventorium of the County Hospital.

Contributions to the Spartan Daily Toy Drive will be accepted until December 10, so there is plenty of time to run out and look for that toy you are going to put under the tree. Come in the Publications office and see the tree and don't forget that toy.

Re-Enactment Of Peace Farce Is Scheduled Friday

Owen Broyles and KSJS radio speaking society will present a re-enactment of their shocking psychological armistice program Friday evening at 7:30 in the Little Theater for all student body cardholders and citizens of San Jose.

It will be presented as an exact replica of what actually took place on November 19 in the War Aims class when Broyles presented the program as a part of his lecture on demobilization.

Members of KSJS will take the same parts they had in the original production and enact them in the same way in order to give those who did not see the show an opportunity to see "just what it was that the students in the class believed," Broyles stated.

People who did not see the program have taken many different stands on the presentation without having had ample opportunity to know the whole story, said members of KSJS. Broyles will be present. (Continued on page 4)

DATE BOOK RULES SET UP BY COUNCIL

Special action by Student Council members last night in the longest session of the quarter established a definite set of rules governing social affairs of on-campus organizations and issued a reprimanding statement to the Speech department for misuse of the date book.

The council, acting on a set of regulations from Dean Dimmick's office, decided upon a definite number of faculty members to be present at all organization functions. At all inter-fraternity, inter-society, inter-class or individual class functions, there must be three faculty advisers. Five staff members must be present at all student body meetings and one instructor must chaperone all other social functions sponsored by a recognized student organization.

Senior class vice-president Dan Meehan, speaking in behalf of the junior and senior mixer committee, said that the Speech department had broken date book by-laws in setting the Christmas play time for tonight but suggested that the council withhold their decision in favor of action by the combined class councils at a meeting scheduled for 4 o'clock today in the Student Union.

Women Students Hold Annual Party

By WILMA SABELMAN

Women students will congregate at the Student Center for their annual Christmas party on Thursday, December 10, bringing assorted toys for under-privileged children as admission.

"Sponsored by AWA, the party promises entertainment, fun, and refreshments for all," stipulated Chairman Audrey Backenstoe.

For the benefit of the entertainment committee, all women's organizations are requested to tally the number expecting to attend. Representatives of these groups will report results at the next AWA meeting, which will be held on Tuesday.

Members of the decoration committee, headed by Maureen Desmet, are: Clara Hansen, Virginia Dorsay, Eva Gire, Joan Ross, Dorothy Jane Henderson, Ellener Wedde, Betty James and Audrey Backenstoe.

"Last year the black-out interfered with our party; we hope we will have no such unfortunate circumstance this occasion," stated AWA President Beverly Roberts.

Other committee heads are Jeanette Rankin, entertainment; Janet Anthes, refreshments; and Wilma Sabelman, publicity.

Following the party, the Christmas tree and decorations used will be transferred to the SCA for a program to be given December 12 by that organization, where Mexican children will be entertained.

Opening Meeting Scheduled By Student Court Monday Evening

All student body card holders may attend the open meeting of the student court Monday evening at 7:30.

Francis Stoffels and Arthur Grey, student court judges, announced that any student desiring to file charges or present petitions to the court should give them to the court clerk, Helen Donovan.

Cases that require prosecution will be handled by one judge. This judge will be selected by rotation of judges drawn from lot. Other judges of the court will render the decision of guilty or not guilty while the appointed judge will prosecute the guilty party or parties.

Judges will meet in open hearing to have the cases presented to them and will meet in private to render their decisions and cast their votes. However, a press representative may be present at the closed hearings.

Court officials announced that appeals may be made to the court with the introduction of new evidence, but the case will otherwise be considered closed.

BOOK EXCHANGE SALE CLOSES

Having completely sold out articles from the Lost and Found sale held on the campus this week, Book Exchange members will make plans for the quarterly sale of student books.

December 16 has been set as the date for receiving books from those who wish to sell their winter quarter texts.

White And Gold Will Distinguish Juniors From Seniors At Mixer

Peace on earth, good will among juniors and seniors will be the slogan Thursday evening at 7:30 when the mixing begins at the upperclassmen get-together in the Women's gym.

Hazy, indirect lighting will add color to the tranquil mood that will dominate the atmosphere, girls on the decorating committee promised.

With senior girls wearing white blouses and white stockings, and senior men dressed in white shirts

IMPORTANT

There will be a joint meeting of the Junior and Senior class councils today at 4 p. m. in the Student Union.

to distinguish themselves from the juniors, who will wear gold, upperclassmen will fight it out for superiority in class spirit.

ATTENDANCE COUNTS

Rivalry at the mixer will be in attendance. The class which has the largest percentage of people present will be the winner. Attendance rivalry will be the only competition of the evening.

Nothing should interfere with a really pleasant evening, the chairmen stated. Nothing, unless a strangling lowerclassman should wander into the dance. Preparations will be made to solve such a situation if it should become a reality, stated members of the Junior Council. Haircuts will be the order of the evening, and "they will really be close", said Senior Chairman Charles McCumby.

CROWD EXPECTED

Plans for the mixer have been made on the basis that a large crowd will attend from both classes because of spirit worked up among upper-division students at previous class get-togethers this quarter.

Both classes have had successful class parties, and large crowds were in attendance at the functions. There will be a charge of 15 cents to cover costs of the affair.

Music will be "off the record" with Bill Bristol's records. A large selection of records will be on hand and those in attendance may feel free to make requests, the committee announced.

Dan Meehan, Jane Reed, and Jeanne Wright are in charge of entertainment for the evening and have promised a "gala intermission and fun for all".

ORCHESTRA TO FEATURE DEXTER TUESDAY EVENING

Featuring Benning Dexter, head of the college piano department, as solo pianist, the San Jose State college 95-piece Symphony Orchestra will present its first concert of the season on December 8 at 8:15 p.m. in Morris Dailey auditorium.

The program will be jointly conducted by Alexander Reisman and Thomas Eagan in the absence of Music Head Adolph Otterstein, who left recently to enlist in the 52nd Air Force Band at Army Air Base in Pueblo, Colorado.

Eagan, a graduate of the college, has been a teacher of woodwind instruments, director of Woodwind Choir and Symphonic Band for 12 years. He is solo clarinetist of the San Francisco Bohemian Club Orchestra. (Continued on page 4)

College Grads, Married, Single, Offered Ratings In Navy Program

College graduates, either married or unmarried, and single college seniors who will receive their degree at the end of the present quarter or semester, have an opportunity to earn reserve commissions in the U. S. Navy through immediate enlistment in the V-7 program, according to an announcement today from Commander J. E. Brenner, in charge of officer procurement for the 12th Naval District.

Men selected for this training will go to midshipman schools maintained by the Navy at Notre Dame, Northwestern university, Columbia, the Naval Academy at Annapolis or another major school, for intensive courses in Naval customs and procedure. They will also get special work in fields which will fit them for duties as deck or engineering officers aboard the Navy's great ships of the line or for duties at shore stations.

All college juniors and seniors are eligible to apply for V-7 classes and those accepted will receive midshipman training upon completion of their college work. Classes opening in December and January have made a heavy demand for men immediately qualified to begin training.

These men are invited to contact the Armed Services Representative at their college, the nearest Navy Recruiting Station or to call at the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Room 308, Central Tower, 703 Market Street, San Francisco, at once. If qualified they will be enlisted immediately and placed on inactive duty until time to leave for training as commissioned officers in the Naval Reserve.

Will all those girls working on NYA please see Miss Dimmick before final week for work next quarter? If there are any women students interested in NYA work next quarter, although they are now not on the program, there are still some positions open if Dean Dimmick is consulted before the end of the quarter.

NEW DICTIONARIES NOW AVAILABLE FOR STUDENTS

Two volumes of a Dictionary of American English on Historical Principles have arrived and may be had at the reference room of the library, it was announced yesterday by Dora Smith, reference librarian.

The dictionary was compiled at the University of Chicago, and edited by Sir William A. Graigie and James R. Hulbert. Lord Graigie was co-editor of the Oxford English dictionary.

The dictionary has been in preparation for 17 years at the University of Chicago, and was issued in pamphlet form before the bound volumes were published, Miss Smith said.

The aim of the dictionary is to exhibit "clearly those features by which the English of the American colonies and the United States is distinguished from the rest of the English-speaking world," according to a review in the Book Review Digest.

"It includes not only words or phrases of clearly American origin, but also every word denoting something that has a real connection with the development of the country and the history of its people," the Digest says.

Horace Reynolds, in the Christian Science Monitor, said that the dictionary makes "fascinating reading for anyone interested in American culture."

It is "one of the most memorable of all American books . . ." George Genzmen said in Nation magazine.

P. M. Jack, reporter for the New York Times, said, "It will be a landmark in American culture, a storehouse for the scholar."

The other volumes of the dictionary are expected to arrive in the near future. The two volumes in the Library now cover all words from "corn pit to record," Miss Smith stated.

The Beginners' Social Dancing class will meet this afternoon at the Women's gym between 4 and 5 p.m. The rumba, tango, and the samba will be taught today. Both men and women are invited to attend.

FROM HUNGER

By TOM MARSHALL

I knew that they'd get something that would reach my intellectual abilities around this college before I leave (via the request avenue). Intellectual ability—that's Bessera-bian for, If ignorance were bliss, Marshall would be quite a blister. That which has given me something new on which to improve my mind is the Christmas tree now adorning the southwest corner of the Pub office. When the students start turning in their broken erector sets and one-legged dolls, I'll really begin my education. Just think, now I can use a tinker-toy set to figure out all of those physics equations that Dr. Brauer talks about! He's always threatening to teach me with blocks, anyhow.

Then, too, the tree gave Johnny "Salaam when you speak to the editor" Howe an opportunity to get away from that perpetual poker game and do a little work. Howe is head man in charge of decorations. Some wise guy suggested that he use my nose to light up the tree top, but that was turned down because the local air raid warden complained that he would not be able to extinguish the glow in case of a blackout.

It certainly is cold out these nights. I understand that the car-hops out at the drive-ins are using wedgies with built-in stoves to keep their feet warm. I don't get cold feet at night, but those logger's boots sure are rough on my sheets. Speaking of cold, that pneumonia trap belonging to Bill Morrow and (Continued on page 4)

Pharmacy Majors May Compete For Government Jobs

Of interest to senior college students with majors in pharmacy is the new examination announced by the U. S. Civil Service Commission for junior pharmacist, $2900 a year.

Applications must be filed with the Commission's Washington office by December 15, 1942.

To take the test, applicants must either have successfully completed a full 4-year course with study in pharmacy in a recognized college, university, college of pharmacy, or medical school, or be a student in such school, expecting to graduate by July 1, 1943.

Registered pharmacists must have the required education and qualify for the test—provision made for their substitution of pharmaceutical experience in study in resident pharmacy school for the prescribed college training.

Applications are not desired for war workers unless higher education would be utilized in a change position. War manpower regulations on Federal appointments persons engaged in certain occupations in specified areas given in Form 3989, posted in and second-class post offices.

Announcements containing complete details as well as forms applying may be obtained at or second-class post offices from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington.

SAN FRANCISCO FIVE TO PLAY SPARTAN FROSH

George Washington high school of San Francisco will furnish the competition for Coach Angelo Colombo's frosh cagers in their opening next Tuesday evening in the preliminary to the varsity contest with the Coast Guard team from Alameda.

The following night, the frosh will take on the local Wardrobe Independent quintet. This will be preliminary to the Fort Ord game.

Colombo is having some trouble lining up games this late but expects to have about 25 games for his boys by the first of the year. Modesto J. C. will be here on February 12 and 13 for games and Palo Alto high school will probably play here on January 16. The Spartans meet Marin J. C. December 11, there.

Pete Allen, center on the frosh team, dropped out of school two weeks ago and Colombo is without an experienced man for that position now. Jack Wilbur has been working at the post this week. He has never played it before.

Colombo will now have the services of Lee Clark and Jerry Vroom who have been working with the varsity. These boys will lend height to the squad. The rest of the freshmen on the varsity squad will possibly be moved to the frosh squad within the next week. Bert Robinson gave his knees a rest last night on the court but he will not be ready for the opening game next Tuesday. Another griddler, Willie Steele, showed up for practice last night and handled himself well in the light workout. He may be one of the tall boys that Blesh has been looking for to fill a guard position.

TRACK PROSPECTS LOOK BRIGHT FOR SPARTANS, SAYS WINTER

By JOHNNY HUBBARD

"If the draft doesn't blow some of my best prospects away, San Jose may have a pretty good track team next spring," punned cinder coach Bud Winter yesterday, when interviewed concerning the outlook for the 1943 track season.

Some of last year's thin-clads have already gone into different branches of the armed forces, and others are slated to follow suit before spring rolls around.

But despite these losses, past and future, Winter is still going to have some very good material, including such stars as Billy Smith and Willie Steele.

Smith was junior AAA champ in the 100-yard dash last season, and is also a classy broad-jumper and high-jumper — while Steele won first place in the junior triple-A broad jump.

Other performers who saw action for the Spartans last year and will probably be returning this spring include: Thelno Knowles, 880 star; Elwood Clark and Frank Roberts, javelin heavers; Vern Cooley, sky-scraping pole vaulter; and Omar Cowles and Elwood Veregee, hurdlers, to mention a few.

Some of the new boys expected to bolster the squad are Ernie Ribera — a miler who has been clocked in the fast time of 4:28; Louie Miller — a speedy century man; Bob Case — a Compton J. C. transfer javelin thrower, and Charlie Blackwell — a quarter-miler.

This is just a sketchy list of the tracksters who will be doing their stuff for San Jose during the coming track season. There are others who are also good prospects. Fall practice is now under way and will continue until the end of this quarter, and during the little time before finals Winter hopes to get a good line on his charges.

Beta Chi Gridders Upset Gamma Phi 12-6 In Inter-Fraternity Football Game; DSG Take On DTO Today; SGO Challenges APO aggregation Tomorrow

Unable to get their offense started until late in the game, the previously unbeaten Gamma Phi Sigma gridders suffered their first loss of the season 12 to 6 to the underdog Beta Chi Sigma men in yesterday's interfraternity football game on the San Carlos turf.

Offensive star for the victorious Beta Chi squad was Wayne Harris whose broken field-running accounted for the first tally, and set up the second. The first score came when Harris took a pass from fullback Charley Morrison and squirmed his way through the Gamma Phi defense to cross the goal line unmolested. Later, Harris intercepted a Gamma Phi pass and almost outran the whole team before he was tagged after a 40-yard runback. From this point Buck Hay tossed the winning strike to diminutive Bruce Leper in the Gamma Phi end zone.

Gamma Phi's bright spot was the touchdown toss thrown by Wayne Fontes to Frank Hallen for their lone score. Final score for the game was Beta Chi 12 and Gamma Phi 6.

Today unbeaten and untied DSG place their unblemished record on the block when they take on the cellar team DTO on the San Carlos turf at 4:15. Led by Bob Gager and Doug Bacon, the league's best passing duo, DSG is a heavy favorite to hand DTO their fifth straight defeat.

SGO, the only other undefeated team in the league, takes on the challenging APO aggregation tomorrow in the final game this week. Comparative records give SGO the edge in statistics, but the erratic APOers may turn in an upset.

"TRY THE TRAIN"

Between Dec. 15 and Jan. 5

- ★ Advance reservations must be made for both coach and sleeping car travel between Dec. 15th and Jan. 5th, except for trips on the San Francisco Peninsula and between San Francisco and Sacramento.
- ★ We can not make coach reservations by telephone.
- ★ No coach reservations will be made unless you have a ticket.
- ★ Seats in coaches will be sold only to seating capacity of cars.
- ★ No extra sections of regular trains will be operated.

Southern Pacific is facing a critical situation in connection with holiday travel. Many thousands of men in uniform are being given holiday furloughs. We think everyone agrees that these men should be given first consideration. We intend to carry them wherever they wish to go.

Where men in uniform are not going on furlough they will be visited, in many cases, by their parents or wives. Their travel requirements must be recognized, too.

The tide of war traffic — troops, equipment, supplies and war materials — is mounting higher and higher, and we are hard pressed to supply the equipment to move it. Every locomotive we have or can rent is being used. The supply of passenger-carrying cars left for civilian use is naturally reduced.

Consequently, we will not be able to carry all the people who want to make holiday trips, despite all our efforts to increase the passenger-carrying capacity of our trains.

This is why we ask you not to travel during the holiday season.

Future Peace Should Follow Present Conflict, States Dr. Earl Campbell In Talk To War Aims Class Yesterday

"If the countries of the world learned anything from their experiences after the last war, they will be better able to plan for the future following the present conflict," Dr. Earl Campbell told the War Aims class in room 24 yesterday.

"However, if these countries merely went through the experience and failed to gather any helpful information, then we shall have the same trouble in establishing a lasting peace after this war," he added.

NO SPECIFIC AIMS

"As yet, the allied nations have not made any specific statements of their aims or the principles for which they are fighting. The Atlantic Charter, which attempted to accomplish this end, merely restated Woodrow Wilson's 14 points in different words."

There is only one new phase in the Charter and that is the section which deals with "freedom from want", which Dr. Campbell described as a typical New Deal declaration. "The difficulty here is in interpreting the term 'freedom from want,'" Campbell said. The manner in which this phrase is dealt with will naturally differ in the various countries and therefore nothing specific can be set up to insure "freedom from want."

CONFERENCES FAILED

"After the last war, there were many conferences which attempted to establish a lasting peace through the disarmament of the various powers. However, all these meetings failed to establish anything definite and therefore they failed. When it became evident that the attempt to disarm would fail, the immediate result was a race to re-arm."

"World organization after the present war can be established on one of two planes—we can go back to the world of twenty-five years ago, or we can establish a group similar to the League of Nations to handle difficulties between nations."

"It is doubtful that we will go back to World War ways after the present conflict, but our policy will have no more effect toward establishing a greater union among nations if we adopt the second plan and fail to give the governing organization some real power," Campbell said.

"This 'league', or international police force, must be given the power to restrain any aggressive state in time to prevent any serious consequences. They must have the power to punish aggressors by force or it will be of no use."

JOB SHOP

An opportunity for a P. E. major to do recreational work with a physically handicapped boy is open, with hours preferably in the morning. $1 an hour.

There is also a delivery job open afternoons, at 50 cents an hour.

Applications for Christmas work at the Post Office are still available in the Dean of Men's office.

An afternoon job pays 60 cents an hour.

Four men are wanted to do janitor work at 62½ cents an hour.

There is an opening for service station workers over the weekends.

A dishwashing job is still open on the campus at 45 cents an hour with a 20 per cent discount on the price of meals.

"Kind Lady" rehearsal, Thursday at 4:00. All new members please be present. If you can't make it, see me or leave a note on the KSJS desk. Show is to be given next week.—Eleanor Wagner.

NEW MEMBERS OF KSJS GIVE ONE-ACT PLAY

As part of their initiation into the KSJS radio speaking society, the new members are presenting a one-act play, "Kind Lady", in the Little Theater at noon some day next week.

Ruth Banks and Milton Brietzke play the leads in the drama, and Janice Cuneo, Ed Kincaid, and Margaret Moore have supporting roles.

Ward Rasmus of the Speech department directs the play, and Eleanor Wagner assists as student director.

"Kind Lady" was presented on Orson Welles' Campbell soap radio program several years ago. The plot centers around an elderly woman whose sincere kindness is taken advantage of by a villainous gang, who attempt to force her into signing away all her possessions.

Nursery School Training Program Offered At SJS

For the first time in the college history the Home Economics department will offer a training program for nursery school assistants during the winter quarter.

The impelling motive for this new venture arises out of the community's need for developing day nurseries and nursery schools to care for the children of mothers who enter the defense industries or other war activities. Dr. Margaret C. Jones, head of the Home Economics department, said yesterday.

Eligibility for this training course depends upon the following points: Graduation from high school, practical experience with young children, educational background in foods, nutrition, psychology and hygiene, and reasons for entering upon this training program.

The courses to be offered are being planned to run concurrently so that as many students as possible, who are interested in the education of young children, can avail themselves of this opportunity to have some practical experience. This program is open to students in all departments of the college.

Each individual intending to register should make application in the Home Economics office before December 15th, Dr. Jones said.

FILL OUT CARDS

Reservists who have not yet filled out the yellow cards as to information required by the college and the armed services must delay no longer.

Reisman has been teacher of cello and theory here since 1940. He is a graduate of Eastman School of Music and was a member of the Rochester Philharmonic Civic Orchestra and of the Paramount Studios Recording Orchestra before coming to San Jose.

The orchestra will play "Rosa-munds Overture" by Schubert, "Symphony No. 4 in E Minor" by Brahms, "Symphonic Variations" by Franck, and "Les Preludes" by Liszt.

Commentator for the program is Miss Alma Lowry Williams, instructor of music history, music appreciation, and theory at the college.

"In spite of many students entering the armed forces, the orchestra is carrying on in splendid style," exclaimed Reisman. The group is made up of student musicians from all parts of California.

A photography exhibit by one of San Jose State's former students, Mr. Michael Conversa of the San Jose Mercury Herald, is now on display in the Art department for the benefit of the student body.

All of the photographs appearing in the exhibit were taken by Mr. Conversa while on an assignment and cover many fields of activities and subjects. He was a student under Mr. George Stone, photography instructor, and has highly praised the instruction he received here.

Conversa has claimed many trophies and prizes for his work in photography. The exhibit will be in the Art department for the next two weeks.

ent to give explanations and answer questions pertaining to the show. He will explain the effect of it on the students as he saw it from in front of the class room and explain the value of having presented his lecture in that way.

During the original program it was announced that an armistice had been signed and that the world was again at peace. Students of the class cheered and sung happily. A radio was brought into the room that had speakers from around the world, including such famous personages as Winston Churchill, Joseph Stalin, Pope Pius XI, Marshal Petain and many others.

Debaters In Symposium Sunday

Student debate and discussion in war time will be the topic for discussion when four California colleges hold their next symposium over station KFRC to 4:30.

THERAPY COURSE TO BE INSTITUTED

A training program for occupational therapists will be instituted here at San Jose State college beginning next quarter. This program is being added to the curriculum due to the growing demand for therapists in maintaining mental and physical health.

Dr. Marques Reitzel, head of the Art department, has been put in charge of arrangements and organization of the program. He stated that it is imperative that all students interested in this training come to the Art department office for further information and to discuss individual problems and questions. The week before finals has been set aside for full explanations of the courses.

The demand for occupational therapists far exceeds the supply now available. Because of this increasing demand, the salaries offered are very good. Initial salaries depend on qualifications and often range from $75 to $100 monthly with full maintenance; or $1300 to $1800 yearly without maintenance. The Army and Navy offer $1800 as an initial salary.

Occupational therapy is closely related to such fields as medicine, nursing, social work, teaching, and many students have already taken courses which will fit into the program now being arranged for next quarter.

Pi Omega Pi Holds Informal Initiation

Following a short business meeting, six new members were informally initiated into Pi Omega Pi, national business education fraternity, Monday evening.

New members include Dorothy Beegle, Marjorie Behrman, Russell Bate, Gerald Becker, Eldon Mahoney and Mildred Kellogg.

Refreshments were served after the initiation ceremonies. The formal initiation is to be held this Sunday evening at a formal dinner given at the De Anza hotel.

Eight Initiated By Service Group

Eight pledges were formally initiated into Gamma Beta chapter of Alpha Phi Omega recently at O'Brien's.

Karl Hazeltine, professor on nature study, and Ward Rasmus, speech instructor, were chosen as advisers by the fraternity, announced Ed Carman, president of the national service group.

Names of the new members are: Bill Walker, Robert Howe, Paul Farnham, Conrad Eaton, Miner Gray, Bailey Tudder, Bruce Prather and Carroll Greathhead.

STATE OFFICE JOBS OFFERED

News releases received here the past week from the office of the state personnel board announced several examinations toward positions as calculating machine operators and mechanics.

Heavy equipment mechanics needed by the state division highways at a salary of $175 month. Entrance requirements include three years' experience as a mechanic on gasoline and diesel powered heavy construction highway maintenance equipment.

Applicants for the position receive information concerning examination from the local highway district office, and applications must be filed by December 9.

Women are eligible for positions as calculating machine operators for immediate employment inramento, the news release from state personnel board indicated and no experience is required. Application must be filed by December 7.

Information regarding these positions may be obtained by writing the State Personnel Board, L Street, Sacramento, California.

Adding another group to the panding number of date book contributors, the council went on record as favoring a proposal to athletic contests listed. This will not be in a complete form since athletic events have priority on the time schedule. The councilors asked P. E. department heads to cooperate and help straighten out the date book listing all events which have definitely set.

The council discussed a which provided for little student organizations to receive introductory publicity in the and thereby aid in the orientation of new students.
